

STRATEGIC CONSULTING

WolfPeak is a premium environmental consultancy.

Our organisation is built around a select team whose experience on the ground make them the best in the field.

We support our clients to make environment an area of power and leverage based on knowledge and strategy.

We do this through:

- Investigation and audit – our team’s frontline experience and forensic approach means if you are acquiring an asset or investing in a project we will give you the best assessment of risks and opportunities. This knowledge allows you to make informed decisions, leverage a deal or take a strategic approach to turn a risk into an opportunity.
- Translation – like any sector environment has its own, constantly evolving language. We are able to communicate effectively with the policy maker, the regulator, the multinational, the specialist, the community and other stakeholders. This means that we can smooth the path for our clients, removing the miscommunications and misunderstandings that so often lead to unwarranted costs or missed opportunities.
- Project management - the environmental field is rich with specialisation. An ill-informed client, a narrow specialist and an over-zealous regulator can lead to perverse and expensive outcomes. We prevent this waste. We understand and inform the client, communicate with the regulator to determine pragmatic solutions and then manage the specialists to deliver the outcome.
- Relationships – our reputations and relationships are our most valuable asset. Built up over many years of working in the sector we use these to get to the heart of an issue, work with stakeholders to find pragmatic solutions and then deliver the best outcomes for our clients, the environment and the community.
- Strategy – our team brings experience in policy, politics, media, communications, stakeholder engagement and problem solving together with our environmental strength. This mix means we can help our clients develop strategy on environment that spans the full spectrum. Organisations that have a strong, clear strategy on environment will have success in a world where the environment becomes the issue.

WolfPeaks current and recent clients include: Westpac, Brookfield, CPB Contractors, Salini Impregilo, Ferrovial, Acciona, Wentworth Group of Concerned Scientists, Department of Premier and Cabinet, Sydney Motorways Corporation, NSW Telco Authority, Office of Local Government, Department of Planning and Environment, Australian Rail Track Corporation, Transport for NSW, Office of Environment and Heritage, NSW National Parks, Dubbo Regional Council, Hutchison Ports and Transgrid.

